GAITHERSBURG NEWS.

Town Tax on Dogs Vigorously Opposed -General Mention.

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star. GAITHERSBURG, Md., Sept. 16, 1904. The town council of Gaithersburg is holding special sessions devoted to the revision of local laws, which were enacted in 1894. Some of the ordinances, as they came up for re-enactment are meeting with vigorous opposition. None is opposed more strenuously than No. 8, which provides for issuing of dog licenses, at a tax of $1 per year on each canine. Hold-over members of the council and the town officers, whose duty it is to enforce this ordinance are a unit in opposition to re-enactment. Experience, they argue, has taught that the council is not able to enforce this ordinance, and it is therefore impracticable. The town officers, it is understood, have signified their inten-tion of surrendering their positions if the council should begin a crusade against the

How Union Terminal Project Affects Garfield Park.

LEGISLATION NEEDED

NEW JERSEY AVENUE BRIDGE TO

BE ELIMINATED.

The Avenue Within Reservation Closed to Public-Railway Company Releases Ground to District.

Important and extensive changes in the original plan of improvements in Garfield Park, southeast, in connection with the new union terminal project, have just been agreed upon by the District officials and the officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. In order to accomplish these changes, however, it will be necessary to obtain additional legislation from Congress, and the work cannot, therefore, be executed until after congressional authority has been obtained

Practically all of Garfield Park, it is stated, was granted by the government years ago to the railroad company for use as railroad yards, and the round house of that company is located in this square. The portion of the reservation now used by the railroad company is bounded by South Capitol and 2d streets and by Virginia avenue and I street southeast.

According to the original plan of railroad and street improvement in this portion of the park the main tracks of the railroad were to cross South Capitol street on the line of Virginia avenue, over the roadway, and thence under the roadway of New Jersey avenue and on into the tunnel, which Jersey avenue and on into the tunnel, which has its beginning at 2d street southeast. The law specified that New Jersey avenue should be kept open to the public by means of a bridge over the tracks on Virginia avenue. This bridge was to be built by the railroad company, and thereafter it was to be kept in repair, and, if occasion required, be rebuilt at the expense of the District. of the District.

Changes Provided For.

The changes in plan of operations in this section contemplate the elimination altogether of the New Jersey avenue bridge, and the closing of that street to the public within the lines of the reservation. In return for the District's releasing the railroad company from constructing a long and expensive bridge, which would be necessary under the original plan, the railroad company proposes to surrender to the District for municipal purposes a large portion of the reservation now occupied and used by the reservation now occupied and used by the company.

The proposed new plan, it is believed by the authorities, is advantageous both to the railroad company and to the District government and to the citizens of the District as well.

It is stated that the tracks of the set is

It is stated that the tracks of the rail-road company are laid all over the greater part of the reservation, and that New Jer-sey avenue through the park has been pracsey avenue through the park has been practically closed to the public for nearly two years. This street, it is pointed out, is not a regular avenue within the lines of the reservation, but only a narrow park roadway, and the closing of the road to the public has occasioned no complaint.

Traffic along New Jersey avenue from the coutheast to the northwest can be diverted.

NEW YORK AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, N. Y. ave., 13th and H sts.—Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, pastor, 11 a.m. The pastor has returned from his summer vacation and will preach. No evening service. 9:30 a.m., Sabbath school; 6:45 p.m. C. E. Society. proved thoroughfares to the business sec tion of the city. The opening of New Jer-sey avenue across the park, and the buildsey avenue across the park, and the building of a bridge over the tracks in the reservation, it is pointed out, would necessitate a steep grade at that point, and traffic would naturally turn down I street and into South Capitol street, a slight increase in distance, rather than use the steep grade occasioned by the bridge.

Virginia Avenue Opened. It is also pointed out that Virginia avenue is to be opened to the public between 2d and South Capitol streets. In the event a bridge were constructed on the line of New Jersey avenue, it is stated, that the grade of Virginal avenue at the point where it is intersected by New Jersey avenue would have to be raised equal to that of the intersecting street. By closing New Jersey avenue and eliminating the proposed bridge an even and easy grade can be maintained on Virginia avenue, and this thoroughfare will be convenient for traffic from southeast Washington to the business section. It is believed that when the improvements in this section of the city are com-pleted and the streets are placed in suitable condition that Virginia avenue will be largely used by vehicular traffic, from southeast to northwest, as the steep grades on Capitol Hill can then be avoided. One of the principal advantages to the District government in the event the change in plans is authorized by Congress, will be the surrender to the District by the railroad company of that portion of the square lying between New Jersey avenue and 2d street southeast. Tracks are now laid in this space, but if the change contemplated are made the railroad company templated are made the railroad company will occupy only that part of the reservation lying between New Jersey avenue and South Capitol street. The District officials are very desirous of obtaining the space east of New Jersey avenue, so that it may be utilized as a property yard for the District engineer department.

trict engineer department. Need of a Property Yard. For many years the need of a property yard on the line of the railroad has been urged by the officials, but they have been unsuccessful thus far in obtaining authority and funds for the purchase of a site. Should the new plans be carried out it is believed the question of providing a property yard will be settled to the satisfaction and advantage to the District.

By the adoption of the new plans, the railroad company will be relieved of the expense of constructing a long bridge on the line of Virginia avenue, and the District will benefit by the surrender of a large tract of land to be used as a property large tract of land to be used as a property yard. The citizens, it is believed, will benefit by improved street conditions and by the elimination of steep grades.

Damages Claimed.

Constantine Mantis, James J. Qouras and James Tzakalakis, partners, doing a fruit business in Washington, today, through their attorney, William E. Ambrose, filed a suit for damages against Charles B. Pierce, a commission merchant, located at 9th street and Louisiana avenue northwest, to recover $2,000 damages. The partners allege that they paid $300 bonus to Mr. Pierce for the use of a small fruit stand, he having agreed with them that he would not sell fruit himself or permit any other merchants to sell fruit from stands adjoining the defendant's property and controlled by him. The plaintiffs claim that notwithstanding this agreement the defendant permitted others to sell fruit and sold fruit himself to the damage of the plaintiffs. the damage of the plaintiffs.

THE KEENEST RIVALRY FOR OPENING OF DRAW

Launching of the Connecticut at the Commissioners Extend Hours in Com-New York Navy Yard on the 29th Instant.

Invitations have been received by all the prominent officials of the government to attend the launching of the battle ship Connecticut at the navy yard, New York, on the morning of the 29th instant. Unusual interest attaches to this event for the reason that the Connecticut is being constructed at a government yard, in competition as to cost and character and time of construction, with her sister ship Louisiana, under construction at the yard of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company.

Keen Rivalry in the Contest.

There is the keenest rivalry in the matter and the result is awaited with considerable nterest in naval and shipbuilding circles. So far the Louisiana is more advanced in construction than the Connecticut, but the naval construction corps are confident they will be able to turn the latter over to the government for her official trial before the Louisiana is ready for that supreme test The Louisiana was launched on the 27th ultimo, and work on her is being pushed vigorously. But as the vessel is little more than one-half finished it is far too soon to venture a prediction as to the result, especially as it is claimed that the government force may pass the force of the con tractors in the extensive work yet to be

The Secretary of the Navy and a large number of prominent guests will be present at the launching of the Connecticut, including the governor of Connecticut and state officials. The vessel will be christened by Miss Alice B. Welles, daughter of Mr. Edgar T. Welles of Hartford, Conn.

Highest Type of Battle Ship. The Connecticut is considered by naval experts the highest type of battle ship, and embodies all the best ideas of modern naval construction. She will be 450 feet long, with beam of 76 feet 10 inches. Her normal mean draught, with 900 tons of coal, will be 24 feet 6 inches, but she can carry 2,200 tons of coal. Her normal displacement will be 16,000 tons, but with a full load of coal and ammunition she will have a displacement of 17,666 tons. Her complement will be 42 officers and 700 months. ment will be 42 officers and 780 men.

She will be equipped with twin screws and twelve Babcock-Wilcox boilers, which will develop 16,500 horsepower. She will have a speed of eighteen knots. Her turret armor will be twelve-inch Krupp, the barbette armor ten-inch Krupp and the side armor from nine to eleven inches. Her armament will be such that she could fight any battle ship in the world with an even chance of winning. She will have four twelve-inch guns, eight eight-inch guns, twelve seven-inch guns and thirty guns of smaller caliber. In addition to this she will have four submerged torpedo tubes, which have been added to the armament since the original plans were made, and partly for the reason of the successful torpedo attacks in the Russo-Japanese war.

BACE IN THE BUILDING OF BAT- NEW REGULATIONS APPLYING TO ANACOSTIA BRIDGE.

> pliance With Request of Shippers and War Department.

The District Commissioners have made arrangements to have the draw of the Anacostia bridge across the Eastern branch of the Potomac river opened for vessels from 6 a.m. until 7 p.m. instead of from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m., as was formerly the case. The draw will also be opened at any other hour upon reasonable notice being given to the Commissioners. This action has been taken by the District Commissioners in consequence of a complaint sent to the War Department by the Allegheny Coal Company, which declared that its business is damaged on account of the regulation of the Commissioners allowing the draw of the Anacostia bridge to be opened only between the hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The coal company's complaint was forwarded to the Commissioners by H. F. the Secretary of War prescribes regulations to govern the opening of draw bridges, and recommended that the draw in question be opened at any time upon reasonable signal.

Upon motion of Col. John Biddle, Engineer Commissioner, the chief of engineers of the War Department will be informed of the new arrangements made to have the draw open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m., and also that it will be opened during any of the twenty-four hours upon reasonable notice to the Commissioners, "in so far as it is practicable with the existing funds for the Limited Appropriation Available.

Col. Biddle, in his recommendation, states that "it is not practicable with the appropriation on hand to employ sufficient keepers to operate the draw during the whole twenty-four hours, but it is thought that the measures taken will adequately accommodate all the needs of commerce. If the chief of engineers desires the draw to be operated for a longer period the Commissioners will be obliged to request from Congress sufficient funds to provide for opening it for such a period."

Col. Biddle mentions further that an appropriation was made during the last session of Congress for the reconstruction of the Anacostia bridge, but on account of the the Anacostia bridge, but on account of the fact that a change was made in the harbor lines since this appropriation was asked for, and on account of the further fact that the width of the draw has been fixed at 100 feet, which was also not anticipated in the appropriation asked for, it will be necessary to ask Congress for additional managery to reconstruct the bridge. money to reconstruct the bridge. At present the entire appropriation for the "ordinary care of bridges," including the salaries of the bridge keepers, is $4,000. More money would be required to have the bridge keeper opening the draw constantly

ESTIMATES SUBMITTED. Inspector of Plumbing Asks for Increase of Funds. Mr. H. B. Davis, inspector of plumbing, today submitted to the Comimssioners his estimate of the funds required for the conduct of his office during the fiscal year 1906. A total increase of $19,320 over the current appropriation for the department is requested for the next fiscal year, the largest item of increase being an additional appropriation of $15,000 for repairing and remodeling the plumbing in the public schools. The appropriation for this purpose made by the last Congress was $35,000. Mr. Davis estimates, however, that $50,000 is needed during the next fiscal year for changing the plumbing in many of the Washington school buildings.

Other items of increase are noted as follows: $400 in the salary of the inspector of plumbing, $200 in salary of the first assistant inspector, $200 each in salary of four assistant inspectors, $1,200 for salary for an additional draughtsman, $1,000 for salary for additional clerk and stenographer and $720 for salary of additional index clerk. Inspector Davis recommends that a vehicle be provided for the use of his office for the purpose of making inspections in urgent cases.

The Naval Medical School. The Naval Medical School in this city will begin its regular course of instruction the first of next month, with twenty student officers in attendance. The faculty of the school will be the same as last year, with the exception of Medical Director Ross, who is on duty with the Panama canal commission. His place will be filled by Surgeon P. A. Lovering, who was recently detached from duty on the Asiatic station.

SOME WONDERFUL THINGS FOOD CAN DO. What continued use of improper food will do by upsetting the nervous system seems almost beyond belief and it's just as surprising to see how a simple change from poorly selected food to good, nourishing food will end all of these ails. A Chicago man says:

eye turned out to the side, my speech was stuttering, the memory poor and I was very absent-minded. My face was covered with pimples and I was constantly ashamed of my appearance. "The doctors said my blood was in a bad state, and I took medicine for this for a year, but only got worse. I was so completely disgusted with everything I was tired of living, although I had no

"When medicine failed I tried eating only the plainest foods, but this got tiresome, and I did not seem to get enough nourishment, until in my extrial. This seemed so different from the rest; it seemed crisp and full of nourishment, and I ate it with cream for breakfast as well as dessert after the other meals. Almost immediately my nerves began to get stronger and steadier and sounder and I felt as though a great change was going on within me.

"The first effect I noticed was my right eye did not seem so loose in my head, I could look without seeing double; and then I noticed that I took more interest in life and was not such a chronic

"In a year's time I had recovered entirely from the old absent-mindedness, my complexion had cleared and left me without any more pimples upon my face, all the old trouble with the eye is gone for good and, to cut the list short, why, I have a sound pervous system, am stronger and healthler physically upon Grape-Nuts diet.
